This editorial contains the meat in the cocoanut. Permanent roads must be built where the travel is great, but it is quite impossible for such costly roads to be built so as to meet the needs of all the people where the territory is so great and the country sparsely settled, as is DeSoto county. Though we believe with all our heart in the very best roads, yet we have become almost discouraged when the amount of money available even under the imagination of our most sanguine hopes, falls so far short of building where we want the roads to go.
